Professor Lin

林德贵 <csama@sina.com>

Dear Professor Lin,

By way of this letter of invitation we extend to you our interest in meeting to discuss the collaborative interactions of our clinical veterinary services with you and your colleagues. We are quite certain that the extension of our conversations that we have had on several occasions in the past will bring forward a positive growth in interactions and collaboration. In addition, extending our discussions will most assuredly advance the teaching of our veterinary students.

We look forward to your visit during the week of November 20, 2017.

Thank you,
